EXAMPLES: ELIGIBLE PROJECTS

- Example #1: A new generation has recently transitioned into the ownership of a creamery which sources milk from several farms in their region. The new owners would like to rebrand and create momentum to engage in new markets, targeting high-end specialty markets. They hire a professional to rebrand their materials (logo, printed promotional materials, and signage), develop new packaging, and design a marketing plan for entering the specialty cheese market. They utilize implementation costs for the printing of the signage, sell sheets, and a sample run of new packaging.
- Example #2: A processor with an established and successful regional brand is looking to expand their presence to a broader national market. They hire a firm to develop a third-party e-commerce platform strategy and related advertisement strategy and design.
- Example #3: A long-time creamery has a loyal following but has seen newer processors in the area creating increased competition. They don't know how to create a marketing plan for their business. They hire professional services to help them create a marketing strategy and develop some basic promotional materials to increase their competitiveness. They use implementation costs to pay for the production and distribution of a catalog and other promo materials.

SECTION I: PROGRAM OVERVIEW

- Example #4: A business owner had a friend build an e-commerce site to adapt to changing market channels during the Covid-19 pandemic. It worked for the short term, but they would like it to be a permanent e-commerce site, so they want to better align it with the rest of their website and brand. They hire a professional to assess their website and e-commerce site which focus on an evaluation of their website content, search engine optimization, structure and flow, and for services to build out the website to improve user experience and functionality.
- Example #5: A business owner has found success selling their product on-site and sees an opportunity to increase sales at grocery stores and other retailers. Business hires a professional to plan and implement marketing, social media, and newsletter development. Another contractor is hired to do a re-design of their product containers, shipping boxes, and marketing materials to reflect the business' image. The business uses implementation funds to print the first run of packaging, cards, brochures, sell sheets, and to place online, print, and radio ads.

INELIGIBLE PROJECTS

- Projects not benefitting Northeast dairy businesses
- Projects that seek to use funds to expand production, increase production efficiencies
- Projects that seek to hire/pay in-house marketing, branding, or sales positions

- Costs associated with implementation of activities unrelated to those developed by the professional services paid for by this grant
- Implementation costs which include:
 - Travel expenses
 - Salaries, fringe benefits, indirect costs
 - Branded items solely to be used as giveaways

EXAMPLES: INELIGIBLE PROJECTS

- An on-farm processor applies for grant funds to cover personnel costs for solely in-house marketing and branding activities.
 - What would make this eligible? The business must engage marketing/branding professionals in a contract relationship. Any staff time can be captured in implementation costs or match commitment.
- A dairy processor that sources milk from several farms in the Northeast is switching to a new, innovative packaging material and wants to pay for the design of a new label for their brand.
 - What would make this eligible? The processor would be able to use funds for developing the label design if it incorporated messaging that shows it supports multiple area dairy businesses for the duration of the grant period.

MATCHING FUNDS

All proposals must show matching funds which represent at least 25% of the grant request to go toward the grant project. For instance, for a grant request of $40,000, the applicant must demonstrate at least $10,000 in match. Matching funds may be contributed by the applicant or by another organization and must take place during the grant period. The 25% required match may be any combination of cash and in-kind funds in any expense category. The applicant can use other funds (state or loan, other non-Federal money) as a match to their DBI project as long as there is not any such restriction in the agreements for those funds. Other federal funds may not be used as match. Match contributions must fully utilized within the grant period.

Examples of cash match include funds in the bank, funds contributed by another organization, bank loans, applicant labor, and compensation of employees. Labor rates should be in line with current market rates. Applicants using cash match from other grant sources must ensure there is not a restriction in the agreement for using those funds to match federal dollars.

Examples of in-kind match include goods or services provided during the grant period for which no expenditure is made (e.g., contractors, consultants, supplies, or equipment provided pro bono for the project; volunteer labor; and/or donated supplies that are not part of the normal cost of doing business). In-kind contributions must be made during the grant agreement period and be directly related to the project.
