Seasonality:

It's been a late spring, still early season with very few numbers of vendors with limited offerings. Some vendors way up north reported some frost as well.

Weather Conditions:

Some rain affected some markets earlier in the week, while the markets towards then end of the week into the weekend had sunny, warm weather.

Attendance:

Lots of other town events going on in various parts of the state. That took away attendance for the majority of our markets.

Vendor Comments:

Still relatively small variety of produce available. Multiple vendors said that early June is usually slow with customer attendance as well.

Seasonality:

We are just now beginning to see more commodities coming into season. We'll slowly see a growing list as more commodities come into season as the summer market season is progressing.

Weather Conditions:

Overall most of the markets had great, sunshine and wonderful weather for the markets this week. Couldn't have asked for better weather; temperature was warm, but not too hot.

Attendance:

Due to the weather, the majority of the markets reported that attendance was great this week. One of the markets said that this year has been noticeably better in sales already than last year.

Vendor Comments:

Vendors noted that they will be having a significant amount of produce to add in the next week or so. July usually marks the start of more robust choices.

Market Comments

Seasonality:

We are slowly beginning to see more commodities coming into season. We'll see a growing list as the summer market season is progressing.

Weather Conditions:

Overall most of the markets had great, sunshine and wonderful weather for the markets during week. Some markets over the weekend experienced rain, but less than half of participating markets reported rain.

Attendance:

Due to the weather, the majority of the markets reported that attendance was great this week. One of the markets said that this year has been noticeably better in sales already than last year. A small portion of the markets who reported rain, reported less traffic than last week's sunny market.

Vendor Comments:

Vendors noted that they will be having a significant amount of produce to add in the next week or so. July usually marks the start of more robust choices.

Seasonality:

We have a few more commodities this week to report on. This is the first noticeable produce gain thus far!

Weather Conditions:

About half of the markets reported very overcast, humid weather for their markets. Only few reported rain, so overall weather didn't impact attendance hardly at all.

Attendance:

Due to the weather, the majority of the markets reported that attendance was average this week. Overall markets are reporting that sales are as good or better than last year. They contribute this to weather and markets sponsored activities

Vendor Comments:

Vendors noted that they had more produce this week than previous, and should be having more in the coming weeks.

Seasonality:

There were not a ton of new crops this week, however, the increase in produce is steady, but surley increasing as we reach the end of July.

Weather Conditions:

About half of the markets reported very overcast, humid weather for their markets. Only few reported rain, so overall weather didn't impact attendance hardly at all.

Attendance:

Due to the weather, the majority of the markets reported that attendance was average this week. Overall markets are reporting that sales are as good or better than last year. They contribute this to weather and markets sponsored activities

Vendor Comments:

Vendors noted that they had more produce this week than previous, and should be having more in the coming weeks. Also that sales were generally great for them overall this year.

Seasonality:

This is the prime time for buying and selling produce! Our markets are robust with choices, colors and variety!

Weather Conditions:

Very hot and humid weather effected most of our markets. A couple got luck and only got about a half and hour of rain, which everyon stuck out and stayed at the market for!

Attendance:

Due to the weather, the majority of the markets reported that attendance was average this week. Overall markets are reporting that sales are as good or better than last year. They contribute this to weather and markets sponsored activities

Seasonality:

There were not a ton of new crops this week, however, the increase in produce is steady, but surley increasing.

Weather Conditions:

Most markets reported great weather this week.

Attendance:

Due to the weather, the majority of the markets reported that attendance was good this week. Overall markets are reporting that sales are as good or better than last year. They contribute this to weather and markets sponsored activities

Vendor Comments:

Vendors noted that they had more produce this week than previous. Also that sales were generally great for them overall this year.
